Nationally Recognized Healthcare Executive Joins Precyse Advisory Council

Dr. Donald Bialek to lend valuable insights to leading HIM services and technology company

Wayne, Pa., and Alpharetta, Ga., April 7, 2014—Precyse, an industry leader in Health Information Management (HIM) Performance Management and Technology, has announced that Donald Bialek, MD, has joined the Precyse Advisory Council (PAC). Dr. Bialek brings extensive expertise in clinical medicine, senior operating and management roles in many organizations, as well as deep consulting experience. With his industry knowledge and over 25 years of experience, Dr. Bialek is poised to advise Precyse as it works to simplify its clients' everyday challenges by providing holistic services and technologies that transform clinical data directly into actionable information.

The PAC functions as a source of high-level input and advice on the strategic positioning and expansion of Precyse's service and technology offerings. The PAC, with its extensive industry experience and network, helps Precyse engage its clients and new opportunities in solving their ever increasingly complex business challenges

"We are excited to welcome Don to our Advisory Council," said Precyse Board Member Alan Weinstein, who is Chairman of the PAC. "As a seasoned expert in the healthcare field, he has been instrumental in bringing clinical and operational perspective to his work in quality, physician engagement, clinical operations and informatics. We look forward to the valuable insights and perspectives he will bring to Precyse that will enhance peer-to-peer communication and clinical documentation"

Dr. Bialek received his clinical training in pediatrics and anesthesia in the Harvard programs at Boston Children's Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital. Later in his career, Dr. Bialek returned to Harvard and added a specialty in medical informatics as a graduate student and Fellow in the combined Harvard-MIT Medical Informatics program. After graduating from this program, he taught at Harvard and worked within its medical institutions as an applied medical informatician.

Dr. Bialek continued his consulting career working as a subject matter expert in the Global Health Solutions practice at CSC, Managing Director at Huron Consulting Group, senior executive physician consultant at Dearborn Advisors, and a Partner at PCD Partners, before being named to his current role as Chief Medical Officer for Galloway Consulting.
