Precyse Drives Health Information Performance at HIMSS 2014

HIM leader showcases integrated platform for CAC and CDI, along with unique ICD-10 education program and comprehensive service lines

Wayne, Pa., and Alpharetta, Ga., February 23, 2014—Precyse, a leader in health information management (HIM) Performance Management and Technology, will demonstrate to healthcare organizations how to drive health information performance at the HIMSS 2014 Annual Conference & Exhibition February 23-27, 2014 (Booth #3613). Precyse is once again a HIMSS Gold Sponsor, and will also sponsor the HIMSS ICD-10 Pre-Conference Symposium and host the HIMSS 2014 Lunch & Learn Panel Discussion.

“HIM Performance Management and Technology is top of mind for our nation’s healthcare organizations,” said Chris Powell, president of Precyse. “Our goal at HIMSS 2014 is to highlight for the attendees the value of partnering with Precyse to help them enhance the management and performance of their healthcare information through one integrated service and technology platform. This powerful combination can help them leverage health information as a competitive advantage including ICD-10 transition and optimization, Clinical documentation enhancements, coding and transcription all, driving the financial benefits that come with more accurate and timely reimbursement.”

The Precyse HIM Platform including PrecyseCode™ and precyseCDI™

A highlight at Precyse’s HIMSS 2014 booth will be its showcase of precyseCode and precyseCDI, the only single, integrated platform enabling both inpatient and outpatient computer assisted coding and clinical documentation improvement (CDI). The Cloud-based platform incorporates state-of-art Natural Language Processing (NLP) for embedded intelligence and supports multiple HIM roles across an organization. In a KLAS report titled "Computer-Assisted Coding: A Glimpse at the Future of HIM Technology," Precyse was "praised for [its] strong technology and...received the highest scores of providers" perception that their solution will meet their needs." ¹ Convention attendees can schedule a demonstration of Precyse’s Performance Management technology by visiting precyse.com/HIMSS2014

Comprehensive ICD-10 Education Program Through Precyse and HealthStream

Visitors to the Precyse booth will also have the opportunity to get more information about Precyse University, the most innovative and complete on-site, online and mobile healthcare education solution that is designed to prepare coders, physicians, nurses, case managers, administrative staff and all others impacted by the transition to ICD-10. This unique and comprehensive ICD-10 Education Solution is delivered exclusively through the HealthStream Learning System. Representatives from Precyse and HealthStream will provide solution demonstrations of Precyse University and its innovative applications, arcade and simulators during HIMSS. Precyse was also recognized in the recent KLAS report, "ICD-10 Consulting: Roadmap to a Successful Transition," as the only firm in this report to receive 100% positive comments from their clients about their ICD-10 services. Precyse clients praise the Precyse

University training program as 'mature, comprehensive, and flexible.' " 2

As a sponsor of the HIMSS ICD-10 Pre-Conference Symposium, Precyse will host a panel discussion titled "ICD-10: Stop Being Polite and Start Getting Real About ICD-10" on Sunday, February 23, 2014. Precyse will also host the HIMSS 2014 Lunch & Learn panel discussion titled "CDI Strategies for Success: Advance Documentation and Win with ICD-10" on Monday, February 24, 2014.
